Missional Essentials: Engaging God's Mission Where You Live, Work & Play

Facilitators:
Lance Ford &
Brad Brisco

While more and more people are less and less interested in the programs and activities of the church, missionally minded people must learn how to lovingly engage people in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd places that we inhabit. In this one day training we will discuss the topics of neighboring, biblical hospitality in and through our homes (1st place), understanding how God has placed us in a vocation for His missional purposes (2nd place), and what it means to identify, create, and support Third Places in our communities. This one-day event is formatted around teaching, interactive discussion, and strategic step taking to get you and your congregation on the journey of faithfulness to God's mission.

Who is the one-day for?

Church and ministry leaders who are looking to engage more deeply the practical ways and means of missional living and who need help leading their congregations in a faithful missional journey.

Everyday Christians who are searching to follow Jesus and live their faith in the real world and who have a desire to better understand and practice what it means to live with mission in the normal routines of their daily lives.

Cost: $35/person

Churches with 5 or more: $30/person
