

Finding Your Voice

This retreat will explore what it means for women to lead as their authentic selves and to claim the fullness of their identity as leaders created in the image of God. We will lay aside ill-fitting models of leadership and address the challenges that many women face as they develop their gifts and callings as leaders.

SPEAKER

Jewel Gingerich Longenecker is Dean of Lifelong Learning at Anabaptist Mennonite Biblical Seminary, where she leads the AMBS Church Leadership Center and co-directs the Doctor of Ministry program. In these roles, she collaborates with district conference staff, congregational leaders, denominational leaders, and AMBS faculty and staff to provide a rich array of educational resources for ministry and leadership. Prior to coming to AMBS in 2001, she served as a campus pastor at Iowa Mennonite School and a conference youth minister for Iowa-Nebraska Mennonite Conference. In 2014, she completed a Ph.D. in Leadership at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan.
